The Metropolitan Furnishings Association and Greater New York Home Furnishings Association wish to inform you that the recipient of the Dean of IHFRA Award for 2010 has been chosen. This award is given each year to individuals who have distinguished themselves with deeds and services in our industry.

We are especially pleased to announce that Chris Clarizio, a furniture representative for Klaussner Home Furnishings and widely known for his work with the Dean Michael Clarizio Cancer Foundation, will be named Dean of IHFRA.

Chris will receive his honor on Saturday evening December 4th, 2010 at At The Landmark, 26 Route 17 South, East Rutherford, NJ (just 3 miles from the George Washington Bridge) at the MFA/ GNYHFA Annual Dinner Dance. Invitations for this wonderful and enjoyable evening will be mailed out shortly.

He will share the spotlight with two other individuals. Jeff Katz, President of The Fulton Stores will be presented with the Jerry Gans Memorial Award, and Eric Bernstein of Berkshire Furniture will be presented with the Howard Liveright Award.

A Journal is being prepared to commemorate this occasion. It offers the perfect medium for the many friends and business associates of our award winners to express their feelings.

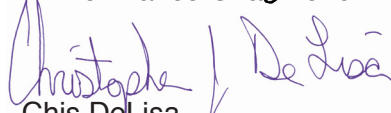

For your convenience we are enclosing suggestions that can be used to create your Journal message. Of course, you may wish to create your own personal or business message. Please submit printed copy, CD, or camera-ready material together with the signed contract and payment method.

Our Journal closing date is November 10th, 2010, so please respond as soon as possible so that together we can make this evening a night to remember for the Clarizio Family and our family of area retailers, representatives, manufacturers and suppliers.

Thank you for your cooperation and support. We hope to see you all at the Dinner Dance on December 4th, so please save the date now.

Best regards,

Andy Gans
